NANZAN WELCOMES YOU to the Nanzan world community – a world apart in time and place, a quiet space where East and West converge. Once you study here, you will never be the same, and the change in you, we pray, will benefit both you and those to whom you are beholden, wherever they may be.

A Nanzan graduate is a member of a growing international community. Whether you study for a year at our Center for Japanese Studies or obtain an undergraduate or graduate degree, you will later find your place in a world eager to use your skills, talents, and internationally-shaped perspective.

Expect to meet people of all kinds at Nanzan – of every race, color, and persuasion. Be open to change. Be ready to study harder than you ever have before. And expect to be surprised by Japan, its sometimes infuriating contradictions and always gracious people.

If you wish to know more about the conditions for admission, school fees, possible scholarships, housing, cost of living and the like, feel free to contact Nanzan in writing:
